CONGEDE DEATH OF SHIP BILL IN THE SENATE

Agreement Reached for Final Disposal of Measure Late Saturday or Monday

HARDING NOT INCLINED TO WITHDRAW THE MEASURE

Will Let Country Pass Judgment on Failure of Legislation

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The administration shipping bill again was brought before the senate Saturday preparatory to the dealing of a death-blow to it on Monday.

On the motion to take up the bill, three democrats, Senators Broussard and Ransdell, Louisiana, and Phelan, Ohio, voted in favor of bringing the measure before the senate. Nine republicans voted against taking up the bill. They were Senators Borah, Idaho; Brookhart, Iowa; Capper, Kansas; Couzens, Michigan; Ladd, North Dakota; La Follette, Wisconsin; McNary, Oregon; Norris, Nebraska, and Stanfield, Oregon.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Final disposal of the administration shipping bill, generally conceded to be dead, by a vote either late Saturday or Monday, was agreed upon by republican and democratic leaders in the senate.

Proponents as well as opponents of the measure, which has been blocked for five days by a filibuster, agreed that the pending motion to take up the bill, on which the final test will come, will be defeated. Senator Jones, republican, Washington, who has been in charge of the measure, said he proposed in such an event to make no further efforts in its behalf.

Defeat of the bill later was conceded openly in the senate by Senator Jones.

"I recognize when I am beaten," he said in promising cooperation to secure a decisive vote not later than Monday.

Concede Death of Bill

That the bill was doomed was generally conceded by republican leaders who proposed the unanimous consent agreement by which the filibustering forces were permitting consideration of other legislation for the first two hours Saturday. The latter accepted the proposal as an indication of dissolution among the ship bill supporters along with the fact that for the first time in five days they permitted the senate to adjourn Friday without forcing a night session.

Won't Withdraw Measure

The shipping measure may pass to its death either on a motion to send it back to committee or otherwise it with other legislation. Some of its opponents favored an arrangement whereby it would be left pending until adjournment of congress.

There were no indications that the administration was disposed to withdraw the bill and the position of President Harding was understood to be that he would let the country pass judgment as to where the responsibility lay for failure of the legislation.

GEM SALESMAN IS ROBBED OF $100,000 WORTH OF DIAMONDS

CHICAGO, Ill.—Henry Hart, a New York jewelry salesman, was robbed of unset diamonds which he valued at $100,000 by two armed men in an elevator in a downtown building Saturday. Hart said his concern has offices at 87 Nassau street, New York city.

The robbers threw Eugene Winshy, the elevator operator, from the cage at the sixth floor, he told the police, and with Hart a prisoner mounted several floors higher in the building at 130 North Clark street. They stopped the elevator and menacing him with their revolvers took his pouch of diamonds. Hart said, and left him on an upper floor.

The report was confirmed by Clark M. Perry prohibition director.

Barber recently resigned as chairman of the Wisconsin Conservation commission. He was a candidate for state prohibition director.

HARDING INTERVENES IN CONTROVERSY ON FARM LEGISLATION

President's Influence Brought to Bear to Secure Inclusion of Lenroot Bill

LENROOT BILL ALSO APPROVED BY HOOVER AND WALLACE

Mellon Throws His Support to Capper Measure

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A composite farm credits bill, embracing the principal features of the Lenroot-Anderson, Capper and Strong measures, was completed Saturday by the house banking committee. Chairman McCadden said it would be formally reported to the house Monday and taken up for passage probably Tuesday. The chairman said a bill had been worked out which he believed would pass the house with little opposition. The committee will meet again to harmonize remaining differences so as to present if possible a unanimous report to the house.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—President Harding's influence had been brought to bear Saturday to extricate the farm credits legislation in the house from the dangers of the bitter fight among republican leaders over the inclusion of the Lenroot-Anderson bill passed by the senate.

According to Chairman McCadden of the house banking committee, the principal provisions of the original Lenroot-Anderson bill will be incorporated in the composite credits legislation which his committee expected to complete late Saturday. He stated that the committee would give attention to criticisms of the senate bill made by Secretary Mellon, who assailed it as "dangerous" and "unworkable."

It was made known that the president had taken a hand in the situation, urging republican house managers to effect a compromise at the same time that the measure received the strong public endorsement Friday of Secretaries Wallace and Hoover. The president was represented as viewing the Lenroot-Anderson bill as part of the administration's program, and to feel confident that this would be fulfilled by legislation giving effective relief for the farmer.

House managers were preparing to bring the credits legislation up early next week under a rule giving it right of way and contemplating passage in one day.

NEW YORK FACING COLD WAVE WITH COAL BINS EMPTY

NEW YORK.—New York Saturday shiveringly faced a biting northwest wind and the promised lowest temperature of the winter with coal bins almost empty. The temperature early today was less than ten above zero, and the weather bureau officials declared it was due to go lower.

So acute had the shortage become, largely through the inability of tugmen to bring coal from New Jersey because of the ice blocked Hudson, that Fuel Administrator Goethals today had the city on a "prescription" fuel basis.

GOVERNOR BLAINE SUCCEUMS TO AN ATTACK OF GRIP

MADISON, Wis.—Governor John J. Blaine is ill at the executive residence with an attack of grippe. The governor went home Thursday afternoon and was in bed Friday. Physicians say that the governor is suffering from a bad cold and that he will require several days rest.

GOVERNOR ACTS TO CURB LOBBYING BY BADGER OFFICIALS

Summons Department Heads to Aid in Stopping Objectionable Activities

WOMAN LOBBYISTS FOR GUARD BILL ROUSE BLAINE'S IRE

Officials Claim Governor is Without Authority to Act

MADISON, Wis.—By The Associated Press.—A general attempt by Governor Blaine to curb lobbying by the part of department heads of the state and their employees was disclosed Saturday following the information that three heads of educational bodies had been called to the executive office for questioning during the past week. Among those already called is an elective state official who went into office with the governor on January 1.

The three officials first to appear in answer to a summons declared that they were not censured by the governor, but were merely asked by him to co-operate with the executive in trying to stop promiscuous lobbying.

It is learned on good authority that the lobbying activities of women connected with the Wisconsin Women's progressive association have annoyed the governor. Their stand was influential in causing the assembly to pass the Prokorski bill calling for abolition of the guard, which Governor Blaine opposed.

State officials point out that the statutes of Wisconsin are specific in their provision that persons connected with the government may personally approach legislators or appear before committees in the interest of legislation. They declare that the governor is given no authority to curb this practice, either among individuals or state employees.

Governor Blaine is known to have told those who appeared before him on his call that he had asked the resignation of one state employee. Up to the present, however, the resignation has not been offered.

Upon his recovery from an attack of grip that is confining him to bed, the governor is expected to summon other state department heads before him in an effort to obtain their cooperation in stopping certain lobby activities that he objects to.

TORTURE DEATH IS LINKED WITH JOLIET SHOOTING

CHICAGO, Ill.—From further investigation of a shooting near Joliet, Illinois, about three weeks ago, in which Michael Corbett of Chicago, was seriously wounded, police here hoped to learn facts that might serve to identify the handless body of a man now in a morgue at Geneva, Illinois.

While the investigation on that theory was progressing two men were arrested here. They are Harry Greening, alias Green, and Emil Corbett, both said to be saloonkeepers. Corbett was shot, police said, during a gun fight between two rival factions of beer runners.

EIGHT INJURED IN LEAPING FROM BURNING BUILDING

PETOSKEY, Mich.—Eight persons were injured, two seriously, in jumping from the third floor of the Alameda apartment house during a fire early Saturday. Seventy-five others rushed into the street clad in night clothing. The building was destroyed with an estimated loss of $200,000. Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Money, owner of Petoskey, the most seriously injured, struck a cement sidewalk when they leaped.

CASUALTIES IN RUHR TOTAL 9 DEAD, 13 HURT

Several Hundred Arrested and Deported Since Valley Was Occupied by French

FRENCH DENY BLACK TROOPS HAVE BEEN SENT INTO RUHR

Permanent French Frontiers on Rhine Urged by Late Minister

DUESSELDORF.—By The Associated Press.—Statistics made public by the Germans show that nine civilians have been shot dead and thirteen seriously wounded since the occupation began. Arrests and deportations total several hundred. Reports from German sources that black troops of the Seventh Colonial regiment had been sent recently to Kupferdreh, Welfert and Woerden are officially denied by the French. It was alleged that these soldiers were being quartered in private dwellings and that colonial patrols had appeared on the streets in these towns.

Move to Prevent Sabotage

Steps to forestall sabotage by railway workers have been taken by the occupying forces, who assert that striking employees have been instructed by the German government to hinder the French and Belgians by cutting off the gas, water and electric services.

With Ruhr customs house in the possession of the allies, the occupation authorities are finding new difficulties in the Rhineland. The postal, telephone and telegraph workers at Maysen are on strike and there is no communication into or out of the city.

Urges Rhine Frontier

PARIS.—The burden of the advice given by the late Theophile Delcasse in various interviews and letters, which now are being published, is that France must establish her frontiers on the Rhine forever as a measure of security.

"The Ruhr is only an episode," he wrote. "We must come to conclusions."

M. Delcasse regarded any attempt to make Germany pay reparations for forty years as "absurd."

"We must look for security," he declared, "and we shall find it only on the Rhine. When we have taken territory to the Rhine we shall declare ourselves paid and shall no longer annoy the world with our complaints."

Seek Strike Compromise

PARIS.—By The Associated Press.—Efforts are being made to settle by a compromise the strike of coal miners in the Sarre valley. The strikers, some of whom belong to the German communist federation of labor, have asked an increase of seven francs a day. They have been offered three francs. The situation in the Moselle basin, involving 30,000 miners, remains unchanged, but it is believed that if the Sarre valley men return to work those in the Moselle district will follow. The latter are being supported to some extent by contributions of the communist miners organization, which has intimated that it may call a sympathy strike with 40,000 communist miners in the Ruhr on March 15.

WORDS SPOKEN BY "DEAD" MAN SPELL DEATH FOR SLAYER

SANTA BARBARA, Cal.—Mumbled words, all but inarticulate, spoken by a man who was restored temporarily to consciousness by artificial respiration, convicted George Donnelly, hanged today at the state penitentiary at Folsom, according to a story told by Chief Justice Wilbur of the California supreme court and published here Saturday.

The man kept alive for several hours, but giving all the appearance of death every time the artificial respiration was suspended, was Earl Moore, Donnelly's fellow convict at Folsom. Moore was stabbed in the prison mess hall. During the moments he returned to life, when artificial respiration was applied he was asked "if a cell tender did it?" He strained himself for a time giving a word which sounded like "Yes."

Donnelly was acting as a cell tender at the time.

CITY TO START NEW SUIT FOR GAS REDUCTION HERE

Authorize City Attorney to Start New Action Before Railroad Commission

COUNCIL ACCEPTS REPORT ON PAYING ASSESSMENTS

Alternative Bids to be Received for Main Street

AUTHORIZATION of the council for City Attorney Swennes to make new application to the railroad commission for a reduction in gas rates was one of the principal acts of legislation consummated by the common council at its adjourned session Friday night. The council also approved the assessments of benefits and damages as presented by the board of public works for streets where alternative bids for brick and asphalt concrete will be received.

Swennes' Communication

The undersigned city attorney respectfully reports that the application for reduction of gas rates in the city of La Crosse authorized by you in the year 1921 was pressed to a decision of the commission on December 20, 1921, which reduced rates on an average of twenty cents per thousand cubic feet. From this order the Wisconsin-Minnesota Light and Power company appealed. We brought the case on for trial last summer but on account of congestion in the court, final arguments were not completed until January 5, 1923. The case is now submitted and we are awaiting decision by the circuit court of Dane county.

The only question raised by the company on the appeal was as to the reasonableness of the valuation of its property which the commission placed at $610,000 for rate making purposes. The company placed in evidence four different valuations by two different engineering firms, all of which were considerably in excess of the commission's valuations. However, I am of the opinion that the company would be satisfied with a valuation of from $700,000 to $750,000. We contend that the valuation of the commission is amply sufficient, and really too high.

The usual allowance to the company for depreciation and return is 2 per cent for depreciation and 8 per cent for return on gas utilities, making a total of ten per cent. On the commission's valuation the company should be entitled to $61,000 over and above operating expenses and taxes, and even though the company's contention for a valuation of $750,000 were considered, the amount would be only $75,000.

Gross Revenues

During the year 1922 according to its own reports the company's gross revenues from these sales in La Crosse were $292,237.77. Its total operating expenses were $158,947.63, leaving a net revenue of $133,290.14 available for depreciation and return. On the commission's basis of valuation, therefore, the company received $72,250 excess revenue in 1922, or allowing $75,000 for depreciation and return, the excess would be $58,250.

The total gas sold was 130,040,000 cubic feet, or approximately 140,000,000. The excess revenue received by the company during 1922, therefore, on the commission's basis of valuation is $51.6 cents and even though the company's basis of valuation be followed the excess collected was 44.3 cents per thousand.

However, the commission's reduction was only twenty cents per thousand; consequently no matter what basis of valuation is used, La Crosse is entitled to additional reduction of not less than twenty cents per thousand.

I assume that the Wisconsin-Minnesota Light and Power company will appeal to the supreme court in the event court upholds the commission's valuation; and if the court sets the order aside, I think that we should appeal. A decision of the circuit court setting aside the valuation of the commission, or an appeal by the company from a judgment sustaining the valuation, either one, would have the effect of keeping the excessively high rate in effect while the case was being tried on appeal to the supreme court.

Recommend New Suit

Therefore, I recommend that the city attorney be authorized to make a new application to the railroad commission for a reduction in gas rates. It will be legal for the commission to pass upon such an application regardless of the decision in the other case, and it is quite apparent to me that we should have a reduction of from forty to fifty cents per thousand immediately. (Signed)

O. J. SWENNES, City Attorney.

HARDING AT WORK UPON IMPORTANT NOTE TO CONGRESS

SENATOR UNDERWOOD MAY BE PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE IN 1924

Declares on Departure for Europe He Will Give Consideration to Suggestions

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Senator Oscar W. Underwood of Alabama, democratic floor leader in the senate, may again be a candidate for the democratic presidential nomination. He has informed friends that after his return from Europe he will give "very careful and thorough consideration" to many suggestions to enter the race for the 1924 nomination of his party.

The position of Senator Underwood, who sailed Friday night from New York for Europe, was outlined in a letter of February 2, to W. M. Coleman of the Alabama house of representatives, after adoption by the Alabama legislature of a resolution urging that Senator Underwood permit his name to go before the democratic national convention next year.

Senator Underwood will not return from Europe until the middle of June. In the 1912 campaign the Alabama senator was a prominent candidate at the Baltimore convention for the nomination won by Woodrow Wilson. He had a large block of votes which held solidly throughout the balloting.

GET RIGHT OF WAY FOR HOKAH-MOUND PRAIRIE HIGHWAY

Purchase of every parcel of land between Mound Prairie and Hokah, and of all the land in and through Hokah needed by the state for the construction of Highway No. 9 was made at the right-of-way meeting in Hokah Thursday.

Owing to the bad weather and drifted roads owners of land near Houston could not be present. Deals have been made with some of these people since the meeting and it is expected that all the land will be bought in a few days so that advertising for bids to do the work can be done at once and construction commenced in the spring.

The meeting was presided over by W. B. Tucker and W. J. Chapman of the state highway department. It went off like clock-work and reflected great credit upon the ability of these gentlemen to make satisfactory terms for all concerned.—Hokah Chief.

VERDICT IS REPORTED AT NOON TODAY

State Tries Accused on Charge of Murdering John Gantenbein; Disposition of Second Charge Unknown

WITHROW AND COWIE FLAY STORY OF STATE WITNESSES

Defense Pleaded "Self-defense"; State Contended Shooting "Cold Blooded Murder"

ALMA, Wis.—(Special)—Emos Behner was found not guilty of a charge of murdering City Marshal John Gantenbein, by a jury in circuit court here Saturday morning. The case, which has occupied the center of the stage in the affairs of Alma and Buffalo counties since last Monday morning, was given to the jury at 5 o'clock Friday afternoon. They reported that they had arrived at a verdict a few minutes before 12 o'clock Saturday.

Behner was charged with slaying Marshal Gantenbein and his son, Allen, in Henry Probst's Palace saloon early Sunday morning Nov. 12, last, after Behner had been threatened for more than an hour with physical violence by Allen Gantenbein, who told Behner that he "could stamp him into the sidewalk." The state elected to try Behner first on the charge of murdering John Gantenbein as it was considered the state's strongest case. It is a noon Saturday it was not known whether the state would prosecute Behner on a charge of killing Allen Gantenbein or not.

Defended by Local Attorneys

Behner was defended by Frank E. Withrow and R. S. Cowie of La Crosse, District Attorney Broadfoot of Mondak, prosecutor the case, assisted by Schuyler Gilman, his law partner, and Theodore Ruehler of Alma. Judge George Thompson of Hudson was the trial judge.

Behner pleaded self defense while the state contended that the shooting was premeditated and "cold blooded" murder.

The attorneys for the defense in the closing argument Friday afternoon denounced the witnesses for the state in scathing terms. The admission of Norbert Bataglia that he and his brother William and Walter Rupp had talked their story over many times and had acted on the story they were to tell, was the target for their shafts of criticism, as well as the alleged intoxicated condition of the three witnesses at the time of the shooting.

Walter Rupp was visualized by Mr. Withrow as an "intoxicated young Lechman" coming out of the telephone exchange an hour or two before the shooting "like a dragon, his eyes blazing fire, for the man who dared to disturb the perfect tranquility of his love feast." He arraigned Rupp for his loud words with Frank Curry, who had rapped on the door, before he was ordered out of the saloon by Behner, and classified him as a "yellow, bluffing coward."

Rupp Stirred Up Gantenbein
"When Rupp left the saloon, did he go back to the telephone exchange to comfort the girl who was frightened and for whom he feared tonight to lay down his life?" said Mr. Withrow. "No. He went to his friend, a roughneck and a fighter. He told

WILLIAM FRISCH HOME IS DAMAGED BY FIRE SATURDAY

Damage of $300 is Involved in Roof Fire Saturday Morning

A roof fire involving a loss of approximately $300 occurred at the residence of William Frisch, 1222 Perry street, about 9:30 Saturday morning. Fire chief, reported.

Cause of the fire, as in the case of several others occurring this week, was from sparks of the chimney alighting on dry shingles on the south side of the roof. The blaze was confined to the roof alone, and, with no wind, no water damage done to the inside of the house.

FOUR MUSICIANS ARE MEMBERS OF THE SAME FAMILY

Zoellner Quartette to Appear at Normal March 3, Composed of Father, Daughter and Sons

The possibility of a family, all the members of which are distinguished by musical ability, has become a biological commonplace. It rarely, however, has it been noticed and even less frequently organized into a group of genuine musical delight.

The Zoellner Quartette, to be heard in the La Crosse Normal school on Saturday evening, March 3, is one of the very few exceptions. Its members include the father, daughter and two sons. If any one of these persons attracts public attention rather than the other, it is the youthful daughter, Augustine, who fills the position of first violin. Her performance in this responsible position has earned the enthusiastic commendation of the best judges.

The aim of the Zoellner Quartette has been to give chamber music to a wide audience. It is the most intimate personal appeal to the audience, and holds that the absence of a cultured appreciation of music does not deter one from liking fine chamber music. They believe in its educational power and value, and have shown their faith during seven seasons by visiting towns that never before had seen or heard a string quartet. In so doing they have achieved their purpose.

The Zoellners today are considered one of the greatest chamber music organizations now appearing before the public. America by reason of birth and citizenship has the honor of claiming as her own this famous quartet. But the entire musical world of two continents and four nations has just cause to rejoice in the possession of the Zoellners. It is probably true that no other quartet ever has excelled the Zoellner quartet in securing ensemble because of the intimate family relationship and the long period of working together.

report was a petition signed by thirty-one property owners on Main street requesting that the council delay decision on the kind of payment plan after bids have been received. The petition was in line with the so-called policy of the council already announced.

Argue Over Assessments

Some argument arose in the council over the motion of Alderman Mahoney to strike out that portion of the report of the board of public works referring to assessment of railroad companies for crossing, to be fixed at and in front of the railroad tracks be permitted to install their own crossings in accordance with their usual method of doing such work.

It was explained in view of the fact that the crossings must necessarily be torn up at certain intervals for repairs that a special kind of paving allowing easier access to the railroad bed be installed. Alderman Redding took exception to the statement that the rails, once installed in concrete, would have to be replaced within a reasonable length of time, and voiced the opinion that the council should go ahead with the assessments on the railroad property the same as any other.

Mayor Bentley explained that railroads were protected by the charter in the installation of railroad crossings, and that an appeal could be made by the council providing the crossings were not installed in conformity with the city code.

Approve Working Report

The council approved the report of the board of public works of grading assessments, and, sixteenth street, from Parnum to Marlow, Barlow street, from Fourteenth to Sixteenth, Twenty-first street, from King to Jackson, Twenty-third street, from Madison to Market, and East avenue, from Market to Parnum, will be graded this year.

Condemnation proceedings for substandard land on which to construct a new Lincoln school were eliminated in one case when the offer of Thomas Parris for property on Ninth street was accepted. Bids for the school were $200 and was accepted by the council.

Alderman Anderson introduced an ordinance to exempt chocolate milk, known as "400," from a license fee. The ordinance was referred to the ordinance committee.

The motion of Alderman Stenger that the city endorse the bill pending in the legislature that the age limit for compulsory attendance at school be reduced from 18 to 16 years was lost. Five aldermen were excused on the vote, claiming insufficient acquaintance with the measure to vote intelligently.

ORGAN RECITAL AT METHODIST CHURCH IS SPLENDID EVENT

Large Audience Enjoys Musical Entertainment at Local Church Friday

The members of the First Methodist Episcopal Church and their many guests crowded the church on Friday night on the occasion of the formal opening of the new organ. The organ, which was purchased by the church, is a fine example of the possibilities of the new instrument. The organ, which was purchased by the church, is a fine example of the possibilities of the new instrument.

Mr. Seaton used the organ as a solo instrument bringing out the melodies through the different tone qualities of the stops in the various manuals, for example the lovely voice of the alce in the Sweet organ. In the Pastoral in A-flat Major, the fine quality of the Great Organ was in evidence. In Secrets, Grieg and Toccata, Dubois, the organist used interesting combinations of stops such as the deep sixteen foot quality with higher qualities giving an effect of mysterious overtones on the rich lower tones.

Very little full organ was used except in the Grand Solemn March, Smart, with which the program was concluded. In this number, too, the trumpet stop produced a splendid effect.

Mr. Seaton is an organist of exceptional ability and a serious artist on public of introducing the new organ to its users. In the most favorable manner, he said, "In trying this new organ out, I found no rippers, everything worked perfectly. It is an excellent instrument and I consider the installation most successful."

This problem in acoustics too had been solved in remodeling the auditorium so the congregation may appreciate unadorned enjoyment. The new auditorium, which is from the standpoint of architecture, wood work and decoration entirely the work of local firms is a pleasure to the eye.

Following the recital, a delightful reception was held at which time the congregation and their pastor the Reverend Mr. Flynn received the sincere congratulations of their guests.

NO DECISION TO STOP RUSS RELIEF REACHED—HOOVER

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Despite published reports to the contrary, Secretary Hoover said Saturday that the American Relief Administration of which he is head, had reached no decision on the question of cutting off further relief shipments to Russia, now said to be exporting grain to Germany and Turkey.

The announcement of relief administration officials in New York that they were planning to discontinue work in Russia on March 15 was said by Mr. Hoover's office to have been unauthorized.

The relief administration, it was said, could reach no decision until the situation as to Russian grain exports was further developed.

VENUS FOUND IN SCHOOL

OLYOKE, Mass.—America's most perfectly formed school girl is Miss Miriam Jones, 16-year-old sophomore at Holyoke.

She eats candy, drinks ice cream sodas, likes detective stories and hasn't any rules for development except to engage in athletic sports.

Evidently Miss Jones has not been incapacitated by her failure to observe strict training diet. Last summer at the Harvard stadium she broke two national records, the running high and running broad jumps. The man who pronounces Miss Jones the perfect physical specimen of girlhood is Charles K. Taylor of Carteret Academy, Orange, N. J., an authority on physical standards. He has made records of thousands of other girls throughout the country but Miss Jones outpointed them all, her score being 138 against the average in all the schools of 92. The former record holder, a Kansas girl, scored 135.

Miss Jones attributes her prowess to "Athletics. I go in for all kinds of sports."

At the stadium she broke the record for the running high jump by two inches and the running broad jump by 5 1/2 inches, setting a mark of 4 feet 6 inches in the former event, and 14 feet 8 1/2 in the latter.

These were the only two events she was allowed to enter but she has done 8 feet 3 in the standing broad jump, which is 14 1/2 inches longer than the winning jump at the stadium.

Miss Jones is also a clever swimmer and plays basketball. Despite her youth, the school girl Venus has a decided personality. Although she is surprisingly shy, there is a mischievous smile in her eye and her friendly smile reveals a row of even, white teeth. Her hair is blond and bobbed and she wears the laddy blouse, short, dark skirt and brown woolen hose so much in favor with the athletic high school miss.

"Plenty of action," is Miss Jones' prescription for herself. "I like action."

NORMAL BAND IN FINE CONCERT ON FRIDAY EVENING

Great Success Marks Entertainment at State School Here Last Night

Re H. MARGARET JOSTEN
The debut of the Normal School Band on Friday night was a success of the sort which portends a long and thriving career. Of pleasure to its members, satisfaction to its director and enjoyment to the public, this joint recital with Mr. Glen Hallik, violinist, was a most wise choice for an introduction. Mr. Hallik's own popularity here and the character of his musicianship made it certain in advance that the soloist's share of the program would be a delight and profit to the audience.

The band's group was the central one on the program, seven numbers well selected and presented with an attention to shading, an appreciation of the subject matter and a marked absence of brassy notes that was admirable. Mr. Josten's ability as a conductor takes the direction of a nice precision, a care for enunciation and an effort toward the delicate rather than the splashy effects which is rather unusual in the director of an amateur band.

The Tannhauser March was very well done as was also Ung Kong For You. Two brilliant solos by Mr. Schumann gave variety to the band's group. The selections from Faust though hardly as finished were very pleasingly given.

Mr. Hallik opened and closed the program. The beautiful E minor Concerto of Mendelssohn was given in a manner that delighted the senses of the hearer. There returns to memory the bright rippling arpeggios like clear rippling water and in contrast to such moments as these offered the haunting rhythm of melancholy even more exquisite. One would gladly have gone out to the Normal school to hear this alone.

His final number was full of contrast. The Souvenir de Moscow, the lovely Ballet Rosemaund, the Irish poetry of Farwell, Chopin and the technically difficult and tricky Round of the Goblins of Razzini. Each disclosed that scholarly analysis, technical exactitude and artistic sensibility which combine to make Mr. Hallik a true musician and an unending source of pleasure to an audience. He was fortunate in being playing last night as he has on many other occasions with his sister Mrs. Horgen. Livingston than whom one could desire no more understanding and capable accompanist.

POLICE PROBING POKER LOSSES OF EARLE REMINGTON

Game in Which Murdered Man Lost $3,000 May Have Bearing on Case

LOS ANGELES, Calif.—A report that Earle Remington, electrical engineer, slain February 15, lost $3,000 in a poker game about two weeks before he was killed and gave L. O. U.'s to cover part of his losses, was under investigation Saturday by police.

The game, said to have been three-handed, lasted three hours and three quarts of whiskey were said to have been drunk by the players before it was called.

Whether Remington redeemed his promissory notes with cash and if not, whether his failure to do so had any bearing on his slaying, was the point in which the detectives were interested.

HEAVY EARTH SHOCKS CENTERED IN PACIFIC FELT AT WASHINGTON

Quake Believed to Have Occurred in Same Locality as Tremors of Feb. 3

WASHINGTON.—Another heavy earth shock, apparently centered in the same locality as the tremendous quake that shook the Pacific on February 3, was recorded early Saturday on the seismographs of Georgetown university.

The tremors began at 2:46 a. m. and continued until 4:30 a. m. reaching their greatest intensity between 3:15 and 3:20 o'clock.

Further Tondorf in charge of the observatory, estimated the distance from Washington at 5,100 to 5,500 miles, and said the direction apparently was "west by south."

Disturbance "Moderate"

CLEVELAND, O.—The seismograph at St. Ignace college observatory recorded "a moderate disturbance" starting at either 2:45 or 3:01 a. m. Saturday morning, reaching greatest intensity at 3:11 a. m. and stopping at 4 a. m. Father Odenbach, head of the observatory, said. The shock was at a great distance, possibly between Asia Minor and Japan, Father Odenbach said.

VERDICT IS REPORTED AT NOON TODAY

Allen Gantenbein of the insult and filled his rum crazed mind with an animal rage that could only be satisfied by grinding Behner into the ground. "Why didn't Rupp, when he was on the witness stand, admit he was foolish to do this thing? I don't believe the Bataglia's wanted to go home. I think there was a clear understanding that Allen was going to clean up Behner, and they wanted to see it."

"After the four came into Behner's saloon, Allen went to the extent of his vocabulary of vulgarity and abuse to get Behner to fight. Behner refused the challenge, declaring he was a cripple and couldn't fight. He pleaded, cringed, humiliated himself as few men would do, fearful of these drunken bullies. If Behner had wanted to shoot Allen, he would have done it after he left the saloon, in the dark where there was none to defend him, and no eyes to see it. Instead, he went to get the marshal, John Gantenbein. The marshal knew what was going on. When he entered the saloon, he took a position where he could prevent Behner from going out the back door. A curse and 'fight' were his reply to Behner's plea for protection. He wanted to see his son, the barroom gladiator, trim Behner up."

Mr. Withrow denounced the three "trained witnesses" for the state, and declared that "Rupp should be sitting there in the chair with Behner." In both cases, he said, Behner had a justifiable cause to shoot "when Allen lunged at him and when John drew his gun. His life was in imminent danger. He had a perfect right to defend himself, even to take life."

Mr. Withrow paid a high tribute to the character of Enos Behner, and Mr. Cowie continued it in the following words: "The state has three able attorneys and unlimited resources. If there had been any blot on his record, they would have found it. Yet he sits in that chair as sure as a new born babe, without a spot on his reputation."

FREE MAN SERVING TIME FOR CRIME HE DIDN'T COMMIT

WILMINGTON, O.—His citizenship restored and no longer a slayer in the eyes of the public, Clarence Leroy McKinney, 29, freed Friday of a crime he did not commit and for which he served five months in the Ohio penitentiary at Columbus, Saturday with his ever faithful bride of seven months in their apartment in Cincinnati, made plans for the future.

McKinney said he holds no malice against those who figured in his life sentence for the murder of Policeman Emory McCreight, shot to death here February 14, 1922.

The injustice done McKinney was righted through the admission of Louis Vandervoort, 20, of Jamestown, that he committed the crime. Vandervoort is now serving a life sentence.
